

RUSTLER PICKLE DISH.

It is reported that Jay Gould actually thanked the baggage-master who saved his life at Livingston the other day. This is only one of numerous recorded instances of Mr. Gould's generosity and kindness of heart.

Lucy—White-haired General Schofield's bride is an azure-eyed blonde, isn't she?

Tom—Yes. It's another instance of the mingling of the blue and gray.

"Do you believe in the divine right of kings?"

"Yes, sah," answered the proud Kentuckian; "and I alias bet 'em as if there wasn't an ace in the world."

A beggar told a harrowing tale of woe to a wealthy New York banker. Finally the latter rang the bell and said with a husky voice and quivering chin:

"Kick this fellow into the street, he makes my heart bleed to listen to him."

Cumso—Bumso is as cunning as a fox.

Van Pelt—What makes you think so? Cumso—At a show the other night one of the attractions was a snake charmer. I asked him what he thought of the snakes; he denied having seen any.

Wayfarer—What are you doing with that long ladder Rastus?

Rastus—Well, boss, dey done tell me ebryt'ing gwine up sence dis Merkinus bill done pass, an' ef dat's de case wid p'olffy I jus' hatter have some insterment er dis sort ter perlong mer reach.

Millicent—"What is the meaning of 'reciprocity,' Will?"

Will—"It means an exchange in which neither party has the advantage; as, for instance, if you were to give me a kiss (like this) I would be obliged to give you one in return (like this). See?"

Millicent—"Yes, how lovely; but, Will, I don't see how an old man like Mr. Blaine can be so interested in it?"

"Cast your bread upon the waters and it will return after many days," said a canvasser for an advertisement in a souvenir book to a Broad street merchant.

"That's not the kind of a return that I am looking for," said the storekeeper. "I want something which will get back with a snap as if it had a rubber band attached. Broad stale and water-soaked don't appeal to me worth a cent."

Boulder—"A man from the Security Company called to-day and asked me what I knew about your character and habits."

Boulder—"What did you tell him? Did you say that you had occasionally seen me intoxicated?"

Boulder—"No, indeed! Do you suppose I would go back on a friend in any such way as that? I told him that I had occasionally seen you sober."

Vendor of Patent Medicines—Have you had any contagious diseases in your family, ma'am? Lady of the house—Oh, yes; no end of 'em. We've had the scarlet fever and the measles, and the chicken pox, and the typhoid fever and the relapse—well, I guess we've had everything but the convalescence. Vendor of patent medicine—I have an excellent preventive for that.

"Well, you may criticize the young Emperor of Germany as much as you choose, but there's a mark of business about him that I like," said Spodkins.

"Why, man, when did you read the papers last? He got rid of that months ago," said Bodkins.

"God rid of what?"

"His biz mark, to be sure."

Spodkins had to pay for two.

Miss Birdie McGinnis complains of headache. Her little sister Mollie has toothache. Miss Birdie says:

"Molly, you must have that tooth pulled if it aches. It is hollow inside."

"Sister Birdie, don't your head ache?"

"Yes."

"Then you must have your head pulled. It's hollow inside."
